WELCOME

The miraculous changes taking place at French Hospital Medical Center have continued this past year with new enhancements in health and healing.

In March, the announcement of a transformational multi-million dollar gift will forever change how emergency services are delivered in San Luis Obispo County. Expressions of sincere gratitude go to Peter and Mary Beth Oppenheimer for sharing our vision of a new Emergency Services Center, to be named the Oppenheimer Family Center for Emergency Medicine. Construction will begin in spring 2018.

We are also forever grateful to Noreen Martin and her husband, Dr. Chris Hulburd, for their commitment to comprehensive educational programs for cancer patients through the Hearst Cancer Resource Center. In April, their gift established the Martin Hulburd Family Cancer Education Fund.

In May, we opened the expanded Stollmeyer Family Birthing Center, celebrating the birth of babies in a peaceful and tranquil setting with beautiful private rooms and a dedicated C-section Suite, if needed.

We promise to continue our efforts to partner with our community to deliver the highest level of quality and compassionate care with the latest medical technology. Together with our caregivers and donors, we are changing the health care landscape for a healthier tomorrow. Thank you for being a part of this remarkable journey.

TRANSFORMING EMERGENCY CARE

OPPENHEIMER FAMILY GIVES $5.5 MILLION TO EXPAND EMERGENCY SERVICES

Thanks to the largest gift in the history of French Hospital Medical Center, lifesaving renovations to the hospital's ER are scheduled to break ground in spring of 2018.

French Hospital's ER is known for superb and compassionate emergency services. This excellence has resulted in the ER consistently ranking in the top three hospitals for patient satisfaction among the Dignity Health network.

When the ER at French Hospital was built in the early 1970s, only 3,600 patients were treated annually. Now, the ER staff cares for more than 20,000 patients per year. As the number of ER patients has steadily increased over the years, the space has not kept pace with the growth.

While the ER staff excels at working in the limitations of a space too small to fit the current volume of patients, French Hospital recognizes the need to expand the 1970's concept of an Emergency Room into a modern Emergency Department.

With a transformational gift of $5.5 million to support this effort, Peter and Mary Beth Oppenheimer are ensuring that the much-needed renovations to the ER will soon be brought to life. In their honor, the new ER will be called the Oppenheimer Family Center for Emergency Medicine.

"Looking to the future, we strive to be able to provide the highest quality of care. As the community grows, the ER needs to grow and maintain its state of the art capabilities while also providing a safe, dignified, private and comfortable environment for our community to seek care,” says Matthew Scales, MD, Emergency Department Director at French Hospital.

The renovated ER will more than triple the existing space, featuring private and specialized treatment rooms, a larger waiting area for friends and family, advanced technology, and more.

“We are deeply grateful to Peter and Mary Beth Oppenheimer for their passionate dedication to community health care. This gift will truly save lives, and will benefit our patients for generations to come,” says Alan Iftiniuk, President & CEO of French Hospital.

Peter Oppenheimer served as Apple’s Senior Vice President and CFO for more than a decade, with an impressive 18-year-long career at the tech giant before retiring. Peter and his wife, Mary Beth, are known for their tremendous generosity in the community.

French Hospital is grateful for the support of the Oppenheimer family. A renovated Emergency Department will enable ER staff to continue to serve the community in life’s most critical moments.

FIGHTING CANCER WITH EDUCATION

ONE FAMILY'S DONATION INSPIRES THE GENEROSITY OF OTHERS

Noreen Martin and Dr. Chris Hulburd.

Noreen Martin has been touched by cancer in a very personal way.

Her late husband, Tom Martin, was stricken by cancer and her current husband, Dr. Chris Hulburd, is a cancer survivor.

This year, Noreen and Chris established the Martin Hulburd Family Cancer Education Fund with a generous $300,000 gift.

"Chris and I have experienced first-hand the nightmare of a cancer diagnosis," says Noreen.

"We believe that education is a powerful tool to gain back control and bring hope to the future."

Noreen is no stranger to philanthropy — or to hard work. As a widow with a young child, she led Martin Resorts, the business she and Tom had established together, to thrive as one of the top private, female-owned companies in the country. To this day, she is heavily involved in countywide tourism efforts and in 2015, she assisted in the creation of the first Countywide Tourism Marketing District. She currently serves on the official State of California tourism board and as Board Chair for Martin Resorts.

In addition to her service within the tourism industry, Noreen dedicates her time to many boards and organizations throughout the business and nonprofit communities. One of these groups is the Hearst Cancer Resource Center Advisory Committee for French Hospital Medical Center. For Noreen, this cause particularly hits home.

"We are honored and pleased to have this opportunity to support the Hearst Cancer Resource Center and create this new cancer education fund," says Noreen.

The gift that established the Martin Hulburd Family Cancer Education Fund inspired further overwhelming generosity at the 2017 Share the Hope event. In just one evening, attendees came together to raise an additional $400,000, bringing the fund to a total of $700,000 in its first year.

The fund will be used to provide educational classes for those diagnosed with cancer and their families on a wide range of topics, including nutrition, exercise, stress management, integrative medicine, advances in cancer treatments, clinical case studies, managing personal finances and more. All classes will be offered free of charge to participants, arranged and hosted by the Hearst Cancer Resource Center.

The Martin Hulburd Family Cancer Education Fund will provide significant support to continue these classes. And it all started out of one family's personal passion and desire to leave a lasting gift.

EMPOWERING LOCAL GIRLS WITH POSITIVE SELF-ESTEEM

GRANT FROM COMMUNITY FOUNDATION SUPPORTS WORKSHOPS FOR GIRLS AGES 8 TO 12

Girls participate in an interactive group exercise during a workshop at a Paso Robles school.

Bombarded by unrealistic images of how the perfect female should look, many girls and women deal with self-esteem and body image issues, feeling bad about themselves and lacking confidence in their abilities. In fact, a significant gender gap in self-esteem exists, one that increases with age. As girls and boys grow up, both experience a loss of self-esteem, but the loss is much more dramatic for girls and poses more long-lasting negative effects.

In an effort to help local girls ages 8 to 12 years old boost self-esteem and develop healthy body image views, French Hospital Medical Center began hosting free Dove Girl's Self-Esteem Workshops at several schools in Paso Robles in 2016. The curriculum for the workshops was originally developed by Dove, the beauty product company. These workshops aim to empower girls to accept themselves for who they are and provide tools for success.

School counselors refer girls to the program who are identified as dealing with self-esteem issues or who are at high risk for bullying. The week-long afterschool workshops are led by a bilingual educator from French Hospital and are offered four times a year at each location. The workshops are extremely interactive and provide a safe environment to encourage conversation on an exceedingly difficult subject: body confidence and self-esteem.

"These are often conversations that the girls have never had before," says Patty Herrera, who coordinates the workshops for French Hospital. "It's amazing to see how the workshops impact them."

After receiving positive feedback from the Paso Robles schools, the girls and their parents, French Hospital Medical Center Foundation began to seek funding to expand the program to San Luis Obispo schools. Thanks to a generous grant from the Women's Legacy Fund of the Community Foundation of San Luis Obispo County, French Hospital will begin hosting workshops at two San Luis Obispo elementary schools — Pacheco and C.L. Smith.

The Foundation is thankful to partner with the Women's Legacy Fund to offer opportunities for young girls in our community to create positive self-esteem, allowing them to better thrive on their journey through adolescence and into adulthood.

OFFERING A SECOND CHANCE

In early 2016, Mike became homeless. Previously, he had a career in advertising and, at one time, was even a property owner. Now in his mid-sixties, after struggling with alcoholism and a variety of negative circumstances, Mike found himself living in his car and sleeping in local shelters. His health took a turn for the worse, sending him to French Hospital's Emergency Department an astounding 20 times between spring 2016 and 2017, including being treated for a heart attack. His homelessness was quickly having a devastating impact on his health.

Then, in April 2017, Mike suffered a stroke and found himself an inpatient at French Hospital. As a homeless patient, he was connected with Drew Washer, French Hospital's Social Worker and coordinator of the hospital's Homeless Patient Support Program (HPSP), which aims to provide homeless patients with additional resources to improve their health and wellbeing. Drew quickly recognized that Mike's chronic health conditions would continue to be negatively impacted as long as he was homeless.

While Mike was recuperating from his stroke at a local rehabilitation care center, Drew arranged for him to move into an Anderson Hotel apartment rented year-round by the HPSP. This would provide Mike with additional recovery time off the streets. During his first month at the Anderson Hotel, Drew worked with the San Luis Obispo Housing Authority, which manages the hotel, to secure a permanent apartment for Mike.

Five months later, Mike is a permanent resident at the Anderson Hotel, now in his very own apartment. Known as "Miracle Mike" among his friends, he is sober and has recovered well from his stroke, although he continues to use a walker for stability. Since obtaining housing, he has not visited the Emergency Department once, a drastic change from the previous year. Mike is extremely grateful for his second chance and credits Drew Washer and the HPSP for where he is today.

ABOUT THE HOMELESS PATIENT SUPPORT PROGRAM

Stories like Mike's are the reason that the HPSP exists — to provide for the most vulnerable members of our community. Being both homeless and medically fragile is a situation that is doubly tragic. Homeless individuals often experience chronic health conditions that are exacerbated by their homelessness and being discharged from the hospital to living back on the streets is a burden that can be extremely difficult to bear.

Through the HPSP, the hospital goes above and beyond providing medical care by connecting homeless individuals with much needed resources in the hopes of improving their overall health and, ideally, their living situation. Hospital case managers and social workers use the HPSP to provide patients with basic survival supplies, transportation vouchers, access to medication via gift cards to the Rite Aid pharmacy, short-term stays at a local motel, or longer-term stays at the Anderson Hotel, when additional recovery time is needed for more severe medical conditions. The HPSP also provides homeless patients with stays at sober living facilities in order to address substance abuse issues that are negatively impacting their health.

The Homeless Patient Support Program is supported by generous grants from the George Hoag Family Foundation and the Bank of America Charitable Foundation. Without grant support, this unique and life-changing program would not be possible.

SURVIVOR, VOLUNTEER, ADVOCATE

MARSHA BOLLINGER TAKES LESSONS FROM HER OWN CANCER JOURNEY TO HELP OTHERS

"I'm not exactly a long-term survivor, since it's only been 2 1/2 years since my last treatment, but still ... I continue to survive."

In August 2013, at 66 years of age, Marsha Bollinger was diagnosed with breast cancer. Like so many others, those words hit her unprepared.

"Hearing those words pulls the carpet out from under you and changes so much," says Marsha. "Suddenly, you are faced with important, sometimes frightening decisions, medical terms you aren't familiar with, and an emotionally overwhelming situation."

Marsha underwent surgery and four chemotherapy infusions followed by eight weeks of radiation therapy. She shares that she was able to cope with this ordeal through support from her husband, sister and friends, and the attention of her Nurse Navigator, Gloria Caine, RN at the Hearst Cancer Resource Center (HCRC).

"Gloria made a significant contribution to my treatment, guiding me and my husband throughout my cancer journey, educating us on the disease and treatments, and providing us with resources and emotional support."

Now on the other side of cancer, Marsha looks back on the HCRC as a significant source of support to her and her family.

"The Hearst Cancer Resource Center helped give me a sense of hope and a feeling that I wasn't alone on this journey," she says.

After finishing treatments, Marsha couldn't just say thank you and move on. She knew that she was changed by her experience, and wanted to channel her new perspectives into impact. She became a supporter and volunteer at the HCRC in September 2015, and has continued both roles ever since.

"I've experienced firsthand how the Hearst Cancer Resource Center impacts lives — spreading hope, strength and support to all who walk through their doors," says Marsha. She stands behind the current effort to raise funds for the HCRC Endowment (see next page) to ensure the same hope, strength and support will be available to community members fighting cancer for years to come.

HEARST CANCER RESOURCE CENTER ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

SHARE THE PASSION — LEAVE YOUR LEGACY

The Hearst Cancer Resource Center (HCRC) at French Hospital Medical Center is a one-of-a-kind resource in San Luis Obispo County for those living with cancer and their families, where all services are offered at no charge. The goal of the HCRC is to help those with cancer learn about the disease, recognize opportunities for improved health, build a personal support system, and gain a sense of extended family. The HCRC is dedicated to serving cancer patients and their families, ranging from those recently diagnosed with cancer to those in treatment, in recovery, and beyond.

WHAT MAKES THE HCRC UNIQUE:

The HCRC is the only cancer resource center in San Luis Obispo County that offers patient navigation services and nutritional counseling. These crucial services are provided by an oncology nurse, a bilingual lay patient navigator and a registered dietician.

Endowment support is essential to maintain and grow HCRC programs and services to benefit cancer patients now and in the future.

WHAT IS AN ENDOWMENT AND HOW DOES IT WORK?

An endowment is a permanent, self-sustaining fund that allows French Hospital to provide for long term funding for a specific purpose, such as the HCRC. The original donations (referred to as the principal) are invested to generate interest income. Only the interest generated is available to spend, allowing the endowment principal to remain intact and generate additional income year after year. In this way, endowments provide financial stability by ensuring funds are available well into the future.

WHY ARE FUNDS NEEDED FOR THE HCRC ENDOWMENT?

The HCRC Endowment was started in 2007 with generous support from the Hearst Foundation. It will ensure that the HCRC continues to be an oasis for cancer patients and their families for years to come. In order to generate enough income to provide permanent funding for the HCRC, the goal is to grow the endowment to $5 million.

A fully funded HCRC Endowment will provide all future cancer patients access to the same vital services that are available today.

HELP SECURE THE FUTURE OF THE HEARST CANCER RESOURCE CENTER.

LEAVING A LEGACY

JIM SARGEN

As the creator and CEO of TriActive America, a local company that produces outdoor fitness equipment, Jim Sargen has always believed in the importance of good health. As a local philanthropist, Jim's interest in French Hospital was peaked in 2004 when the hospital became a not-for-profit hospital. He started learning more about the hospital and the Foundation, eventually joining the Foundation Board in 2005 and serving for several years.

A few years later, after experiencing firsthand the compassion and quality of care provided to patients at French Hospital, Jim started to consider how the future quality of health care would affect the lives of his family and friends, and what he could do to make sure his community had the best health care possible on the Central Coast.

His conclusion was that "if you can make a difference, you should."

Making a planned gift was a natural next step for him. With this in mind, Jim added a generous bequest to his estate plan to benefit the hospital.

"If you want to do something worthwhile in your life that is helpful to you personally, and at the same time is equally helpful in your community, then making a gift is the right thing," says Jim.

ROCKY ULLUM

Starting in 2007 and over the next several years, Rocky Ullum spent a lot of time at French Hospital while both her husband and her elderly parents sought treatment for medical issues. Rocky was inspired by the excellent medical care her family received, as well as the compassion of the volunteers. When she retired in 2010, she immediately thought of volunteering at the hospital as a means of giving back. Today, she can be found volunteering at the lobby desk, assisting patients and visitors as she was once helped.

Volunteering has only strengthened her belief in French Hospital and the importance of exceptional health care being offered locally. When she recently revised her estate plan, she again thought of giving back to the hospital and decided to include a planned gift to the Foundation in the revision. It was a small change to make, but she knows it will make a big impact. Rocky chose for her bequest to support the Hearst Cancer Resource Center at French Hospital, a cause dear to her heart after losing a loved one to cancer.

"It is a good feeling to know that my gift will help continue the good work of the hospital and the Hearst Cancer Resource Center," says Rocky. "I encourage anyone considering a planned gift to French Hospital to make that gift with confidence and generosity and with the knowledge that it will benefit many people in our community."

DR. KE-PING & SU TSAO

Dr. Ke-Ping Tsao has long been connected to French Hospital. It is the place where he started his surgical practice and where he feels he spent his best and most successful times as a community leader.

“French is important to both of us because nonprofit, high quality, compassionate patient care is a community necessity,” says Dr. Tsao and his wife Su.

The Tsao’s feel that they have been lucky to be part of such a great community and want their community to continue to be prosperous, confident, and healthy. For them, making a bequest to French Hospital through their estate plan allows them to give back to the community that has given so much to them.

“When we leave this life, what better way to help the community than to leave a planned gift. The people at French Hospital act so bravely, with such integrity, and with such concern for members of our community. As a place to leave a legacy, I cannot think of a better organization for that legacy to be sustained,” says Dr. Tsao.

A LEGACY OF COMPASSION

DEWEY FORRY'S FAMILY ORGANIZES GOLF TOURNAMENT IN HIS MEMORY

Dewey Forry passed away from cancer on April 26, 2017 at the age of 64.

Dewey was the president of his family's business, fruit grower-shipper DJ Forry Co. Prior to that, he played professional baseball as a pitcher for seven years in the Los Angeles Dodgers organization. A career 1.21 earned-run average got him as far as the Dodgers' Triple-A farm team in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Passion and commitment was something Dewey brought to everything he did.

"Wherever he was, everyone felt him," says his brother, John Forry. "He was just a caring, loving guy who was good at what he did. Basically, he was just an all-powerful personality who touched many people's lives."

During his battle with cancer, Dewey was a patient at French Hospital, where he and his family experienced firsthand the compassion of French Hospital's caregivers. They were grateful for the care Dewey received. In the midst of grieving, Dewey's family turned to his doctor and asked how they could give back. Dr. Daniel Lewis suggested they donate to the Hearst Cancer Resource Center (HCRC) at French Hospital.

It felt right.

"My father really wanted to do something for others who were going through what he was going through," says his daughter, Miranda.

"Supporting the HCRC seemed to hit the mark on that, helping locals battling cancer."

The Forry family organized Dewey's First Annual Charger Classic Golf Tournament on May 27, 2017, just one day after his celebration of life. Individuals and businesses who knew Dewey poured support into the tournament, raising more than $20,000 for the HCRC Endowment.

"We organized a golf tournament because it had that sporting competitive edge to it but also allowed anyone and everyone to be a part of it in some capacity," says Miranda. "It really was a beautiful weekend to honor my father and allowed for all of his family and friends to share stories, to share his spirit and to bond over who he was at his core."

With the proceeds from the golf tournament, the family decided to name a patient room at French Hospital in Dewey's honor, where patients will receive quality care and humankindness for years to come.

Dewey left his mark on French Hospital and its staff in more ways than one. He is quoted as saying at one point, "I know why I got cancer! It's so I can make these people doing chemo with me smile."

His presence is missed, but his legacy lives on through the countless lives he touched. French Hospital thanks the family and friends of Dewey Forry for their strength, generosity and compassion.
